FLOW ON, SWIFT STREAM.

BY W. E. H. LEEKY.

Flow on, swift stream, amid the flowers,
Flow on and dance for joy,
And tell me of the happy hours
When was yet a boy,
I watched thee with the loved ones then.
To wander by the river;
And I am old, and they are gone,
But it unchanged is gliding on
As young and bright as ever.

Unchanged it seems, yet who can stay
The water's ceaseless motion?
The little waves of yesterday
To-day have reached the ocean;
Unmarked, unmissed, they swiftly fly,
Unmarked, unmissed, we, too, must die,
And leave the mighty river,
Where youth, and joy, and love, and
strife,
And all the various modes of life,
Flow on unchanged forever.

FIFTY-SECOND CONGRESS.

FIRST SESSION.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 8.

After routine morning business the House bill to place cotton-ties on the free list was laid before the Senate and referred to the Finance Committee.

Mr. Stewart offered a resolution calling on the Secretary of the Treasury for information connected with the purchase and coinage of silver, and gave notice that he would occupy about fifteen minutes to-morrow in calling attention to the monthly statement of the Secretary of the Treasury as to the finances.

The bill heretofore introduced by Mr. Gallinger for a commission to select a site for a sanatorium for pulmonary patients, was taken up and Mr. Gallinger addressed the Senate. At the close of his remarks, the bill was referred to the Committee on Epidemic Diseases; then on motion of Mr. Cameron, the Senate proceeded to Executive business.

At 4:35 the doors were re-opened and Senate adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

On motion of Mr. Grady, of North Carolina, a resolution was adopted authorizing the removal of the remains of Hon. James Gillespie, formerly a representative from North Carolina from the Presbyterian cemetery in Georgetown, D. C., to Congressional Cemetery.

Gorman for Cleveland.

BALTIMORE, April 10. Senator Gorman has given orders for the regular Democratic clubs in Maryland to endorse Cleveland for the Presidential nomination. Friends of Gorman say that he recently had a conference with representatives of Cleveland at which certain old differences between them were adjusted and the Maryland leader agreed to help the ex-President. Gorman some time ago declared he was not a candidate, but the eulogies of him published in Western newspapers over the signature of his colleague, Senator Gibson, and the long interview with him printed about the same time in Eastern newspapers, showed that he was still hopeful of figuring as a dark horse. The action of the leading Democratic clubs of this city the past week, or rather since the Rhode Island election, in coming out so strongly for Cleveland was rather a surprise to hundreds of Democrats who believe Gorman to be as great a Democrat and a greater politician than Cleveland. The Calumet Club is to Baltimore what Tammany is to New York city. When it came out last Friday night endorsing Cleveland and declaring its intention of going to Chicago to whom it up for the ex-President it was plainly apparent that the club was carrying out the instructions of Gorman, as it would not endorse any candidate or any principle without his permission.

I. Freeman Raisin, who offered the resolutions, was one of the Federal officeholders whose appointment at the dictation of Gorman got Cleveland into trouble with the civil service reformers. The Independent Democrats will have a big mass meeting in the interest of Cleveland next Wednesday night, but the regulars have anticipated them. It is reported here that Tammy tried to induce Gorman to throw his influence to Hill, but the Senator only smiled when urged by the New York gentlemen and said that he thought Cleveland was the strongest candidate in the field. A politician who stands that pretty close to Gorman says that the Maryland Senator will be on hand at the Chicago Convention and that he will direct the Cleveland forces.

Meanwhile every Democratic organization and newspaper in Maryland is booming Cleveland, and Gorman is also using his influence in the South to the same effect. "Every Southern State from Maryland to Texas is for Cleveland," said General Kyle Douglas, who recently returned from an extended tour and informed Senator Gorman of the situation. "When Hill here on his tour," continued the General, "the Democrats did not make half the fuss over him as was reported. I followed in his wake. I gathered but one opinion as to his trip to Jackson and back. The visit was a poetical blunder and its effect was disastrous to his candidacy but it was a fortunate event for Cleveland."

Lynching.

The frequency with which lynch law is applied in many parts of the United States to-day is a blot upon our civilization. It is anarchy in its worst form, and a public spirit should be aroused against it that will suppress it.

No man should be deprived of any right, more especially the right to life, until he has been notified of the charges against him, confronted with his accusers, given an opportunity to produce his witnesses and cross-examine those produced against him, and been tried and judged by impartial triers. This is the foundation of security for all social rights, and when this idea is put aside we have anarchy pure and simple. There is no difference in principle between Ravachol blowing up public prosecutors in Paris with dynamite, and the United States lyncher inflicting the death penalty upon a man who has not been tried for what he is accused of according to the law of the land, and acquitted if innocent, or condemned if guilty. The thing is not to be tolerated amongst a civilized people. It should be suppressed, and public opinion is the agency by which it is to be suppressed.

One notable feature of some lynchings is the meagre testimony necessary to secure the infliction of the death penalty. If the crime is very atrocious, the proof thereof, which ought to be commensurate in its completeness, is reduced to a minimum by the midnight mob court, and somebody is made to suffer and suffer at once. The whole practice—there is no principle in it—it is absolutely inconsistent not only with our institutions, but with the genius of our people.—Phila. Times.

Beware of counterfeiters!—Be sure you get the genuine Salvation Oil. Have no "just as good."

"The prudent man looketh well to his going," the other fellows stay and get a jag on. —Binghamton Republican.

"Soled out," he murmured to himself as the father of his best girl gave him a lift at 2 o'clock in the morning.—Burlington Press.

The road reform movement is becoming a landslide. The country is fast getting ready to mend its ways.—Chicago Tribune.

He (at the dinner-table to young wife): My dear wife, I begin to think that there are a few misprints in your cookery book.—La Tribuna.

"I see you have written your poetry in gas meter, Mr. Rimer." "Gas meter, sir?" "Yes, there are many redundant feet."—New York Sun.

DIED.

At his residence near Whitakers, N.C., April 8th, at 6:30 o'clock p. m., Jno. W. Land, aged 48 years.

He was a native of Sussex county, Va., and entered at the University of North Carolina in 1863. Soon after he responded to the call of Virginia for more troops, and was assigned to the artillery detachments of Richmond; was captured with his command and held in prison seven months after the surrender of Lee. The immediate cause of his death was bilious colic, from which he frequently suffered in consequence of chronic intestinal trouble, contracted while in prison. The deceased was frank, generous and true, and made around his home in North Carolina a large circle of friends who extend their warmest sympathies to the bereaved relatives. A.

Gardner, hardware merchant, same town, says: "Electric Bitters is just the thing for a man who is all run down and don't care whether he lives or dies; he found new strength, good appetite and felt just like he had a new lease on life. Only 50c a bottle, at J. H. Hill & Son's Drug Store."

BOTANIC BLOOD BALM

Glen Alpine Station, N. C., Feb. 13
This is to certify that three years ago I had my left leg amputated four inches below the knee, caused by blood poison and bone affection. After it was amputated there came a running ulcer on the end of it that measured 3 1/2 inches one way and 4 1/2 inches the other, and continued growing worse every day until a short time ago. I was given up to die by the best doctors in Charlotte. I heard of the wonderful B. B. B. I resolved to try that. My weight at the time I commenced B. B. B. was 120 pounds. When I had taken three bottles I gained 37 pounds in weight, when I had taken twelve bottles I was sound and well, but continued taking until I had taken fifteen bottles. I now weigh 180 pounds and measure five feet and three inches high. I contend that your medicine has no equal as a blood purifier. It certainly worked like a charm. J. R. WILSON.
